Biography

Oluwafemi Isaac Bewaji is a business leader, trade-infrastructure advocate, and logistics executive with over 14 years of experience driving growth, operational excellence, and innovation across Africa's supply chain and trade ecosystem.

He is the Managing Director of Fembol Group, an integrated logistics, trade facilitation, and supply chain solutions company focused on enabling seamless commerce through infrastructure, technology, and operational excellence. Under his leadership, the company has evolved into a fast-growing enterprise providing end-to-end logistics solutions, managing over $85 million in annualized shipment value and generating more than $10 million in revenue while maintaining strong year-on-year growth.

Over the course of his career, Oluwafemi has built extensive expertise in international logistics, freight forwarding, customs clearance, project cargo management, trade facilitation, and supply chain optimization. He has successfully led complex logistics projects involving oversized industrial equipment, break-bulk cargo, and large-scale containerized shipments for multinational organizations, including SABMiller and Guinness.

Beyond logistics operations, he is passionate about the role of technology in transforming trade and infrastructure across emerging markets, currently leading initiatives focused on developing digital trade-infrastructure solutions that improve transparency, operational coordination, and access to cross-border trade opportunities.

Oluwafemi holds a Bachelor's degree in Electrical and Electronics Engineering from Covenant University and a Postgraduate Diploma in Maritime Environmental Studies from the University of Lagos, alongside executive education from Harvard Business School and Saïd Business School, University of Oxford. He is a Fellow of the National Institute of Credit Administration and an alum of the China Merchants C-Star Youth Innovation & Entrepreneurship Program.

Beyond business, Oluwafemi is committed to advancing corporate social responsibility through the Femi Bewaji Foundation, funding the education and early career of exceptional young Nigerians from low-income backgrounds.
